

Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.

February 14, 1914.

Dear Dr. Henriques,

I showed your letter of January 21 to Dr. Stapf and I now enclose a reply which he has handed to me explaining the delay in the return of the specimens.

The specimens are being returned to you to-day. I hope that it may be possible for you to accede to Dr. Stapf's request that the specimens which he has indicated with an "R" may be again sent to Kew for further study.

I am greatly obliged to you for enabling us to study these specimens and warmly appreciate your kind forbearance in the matter .

Yours very truly,

D. Poore
