Dear Sir:-

I am making a study of the subject of smoke and smelter injury to vegetation and desire to publish a bibliography of the subject along with the results of my investigations. Out of several hundred titles and papers I have collected on the subject, I find none either in Portuguese or Spanish, though such injuries by smelters and chemical manufactories must be found in these countries, as in the rest of Europe, and something must have been published relating thereto. It would be of great assistance to me in this work, if you could give me a list of any such publications within your knowledge or tell me where such may be obtained. I would be glad if you would place my order for any such papers with some book-dealer, who can procure them for me at a reasonable price.

Thanking you in advance for this service I am

Yours most respectfully,

Dr. J. W. Blankinship.
